

Practice Sheet – If-Else (Python Basics)

1. Ask the user to enter a number and check if it is positive.

Input: 5
Output: Positive

2. Ask the user to enter a number and check if it is negative.

Input: -3
Output: Negative

3. Ask the user to enter a number and check if it is even or odd.

Input: 4
Output: Even

4. Ask the user to enter a number and check if it is greater than 10.

Input: 12
Output: Greater than 10

5. Ask the user to enter a number and check if it is equal to 0.

Input: 0
Output: Zero

6. Ask the user to enter two numbers and print the greater number.

Input: 5, 8
Output: 8 is greater

7. Ask the user to enter two numbers and print the smaller number.

Input: 5, 8
Output: 5 is smaller

8. Ask the user to enter their age and check if they are eligible to vote.

Input: 18
Output: Eligible

9. Ask the user to enter a number and check if it is divisible by 5.

Input: 10
Output: Divisible

10. Ask the user to enter a number and check if it is divisible by 2 and 3.

Input: 6
Output: Divisible by both

11. Ask the user to enter marks and check pass or fail (pass if ≥ 40).

Input: 45
Output: Pass

12. Ask the user to enter a number and check if it is between 1 and 100.

Input: 50
Output: In range

13. Ask the user to enter temperature and check if it is hot (>30) or cold.

Input: 35
Output: Hot

14. Ask the user to enter a number and check if it is multiple of 10.

Input: 20
Output: Multiple of 10

15. Ask the user to enter a number and check if it is less than 0, equal to 0, or greater than 0.

Input: -2
Output: Negative